

North American Energy sector Community of Practice

MEMBER BENEFIT

IAP2's (International Association of Public Participation) North American Energy Sector Community of Practice (CoP) is a community of public participation practitioners and members of energy communities throughout North America who are committed to advancing meaningful engagement throughout the energy sector.

The CoP has four meetings each year, open to anyone with an interest in the energy sector, such as public participation (P2) professionals who are directly employed by an energy company, regulators, consultants, or academics. Each meeting is based around a specific topic that's chosen in advance, and CoP members take turns facilitating discussion.

Our members come from energy businesses, system operators, agencies, regulators & consulting firms.

Over 30 members across Canada and the USA.

24 meetings so far!

Examples of previous topics discussed at meetings:

- How do you work with supporters/allies in energy projects?
- A Matter of Trust - Local Communities and Energy Decision-Making
- Adjusting P2 in energy projects in the time of COVID-19
- What does it look like when we go above and beyond regulatory requirements for public participation in energy projects?
- How do you imagine engagement in the future in energy projects in Canada and the USA?
